

District Chair Packet

General Information

Purpose

This contest is sponsored by Optimist International to give young people room to develop their own views around a central idea. In addition to the opportunity for written expression, participants have the chance to win a college scholarship!

How to Enter

Interested students should submit essays on the preassigned topic to their local Optimist Club. The essays are judged at the Club level and District level.

Eligibility - New Criteria!

The contest is open to students under age 19 who have not yet graduated from high school or the equivalent.

U.S. students attending school on a military installation outside the United States are eligible to enter in their last U.S. home of record. The District Chair will receive all entries from students living on U.S. military installations and send them to a Club in the city the student last resided in. If no Club is available, the District Chair will hold an at-large contest for these students.

Students residing in non-Districted areas where there are no Optimist Clubs are not eligible for competition.

Topic

“How Can I Help My Friends Realize Their Value?”

Length

700-800 words (Title, footnotes and bibliography are not included in the final word count.) Hyphenated words count as 1 word.

Judging Deadlines

The deadline for students to submit essays is determined by the sponsoring Club. Please contact your District Chair for more information. The deadline for Clubs to submit their winning essay to the District Chair is February 28.

District entries are judged and submitted to the Optimist International Programs Department no later than April 15, 2013. District winners will be notified by a letter from Optimist International between April 15 and June 1.

Districts that would like their winner to be notified after their 3rd quarter District conference must submit a letter detailing this request to Optimist International by March 1. The District Chair should confirm the winner will not need to redeem their funds immediately. If a letter is submitted, Optimist International will not send a congratulatory letter or redemption materials to the District- or International-level winner until June.

Prizes

Scholarships are awarded to students in the United States and the Caribbean in US dollars and in Canadian dollars for Canadian students.

Club and District awards should be ordered directly from Optimist Supply for US and Caribbean Clubs and from OptiPromo for Canadian Clubs.

Club level - medallion

Clubs are allowed to give monetary awards of up to $500 per winner for the Essay contest in addition to the official medallions. The Club level awards may be given in the form of a scholarship, savings bond or cash prize but are completely discretionary.

*Disclaimer - Clubs planning to present cash or savings bond awards to student winners should first consult the association for their state or province that coordinates scholastic activities and competitions to determine if such payments would result in the recipient's forfeiture of amateur status. If a student loses their amateur status, they may be unable to compete in collegiate athletics and activities.

District level - plaque and a $2,500 college scholarship for first place winners.

Districts choosing to increase funding for the scholarships or fund additional scholarships will need to manage those funds through other resources. Optimist International will not handle the awarding of any scholarships not funded by the Optimist International Foundations. The responsibility for record-keeping and awarding of additional funds or scholarships will be the Districts'.

Districts may choose to hold the additional funds in District accounts or contribute those funds to the Optimist

International Foundations. Individual donors and Clubs will receive lifetime credit for gifts for increased or additional scholarships.

The Foundations will process requests from the Districts to have scholarship funds returned to them. Requests must be in writing and specify the type of scholarship and the amount. The Foundations will not award the scholarships or write checks to the individual scholarship recipients or their schools.

Judging the Essays

Select three qualified judges who are not acquainted with the writers of the essays. At the Club level, the judges may be Optimist Members. At all other levels of the competition, judges must be non-Optimists. Judges should have expertise in creative writing.

Always have a back-up judge in case someone gets sick. Give the judges a copy of the rules and a membership brochure to review and introduce them to the world of Optimism.

The Essay Chair supplies each judge with the judging materials. In an effort to conceal the identity of each contestant, each entry will be assigned a number by the Essay Contest Chair. The assigned number will be placed on the title page and page 1 of the essay. The title page will then be detached and retained by the Essay Contest Chair. The judges will be given the essays bearing only the assigned numbers.

The actual judging can be handled in either of the following ways:

All three judges gather and evaluate the essays and submit their completed judging forms to the Essay Chair.

or

Each judge is sent a packet with copies of the essays to evaluate. They return essays and completed judging forms by a pre-determined date to the Essay Chair.

In either case, judges should never compare scores or comments on the essays being judged. If the Chair feels there was an oversight, contact the judge directly and discuss it for re-evaluation. Contest Chairs cannot change the judges' scores or deductions!

District Contest

Judging criteria is exactly the same for the District level as it is for Club level. Once completed, the District Chair should contact the winner and get the information needed to complete the Winner's Information Form.

Submit:

District Chair's Planning Timeline

July-August 2012

- Receive an information packet from the Optimist International Programs Department.
- Set a District contest date and have it published in the District directory along with your contact information.
- Send a mailing to all incoming Club Presidents and Lieutenant Governors with information on deadlines, entry fees, and encouragement to participate in the program.

October 2012

- Prepare a presentation for the First Quarter District Conference. Prepare something in writing for Club Presidents to take home with your name and contact information. Train Clubs on how to conduct the contest and how to obtain extra materials if needed.
- Ask Clubs to contact you by a specific date if they plan to hold a contest. This will allow you to direct interested students to the appropriate Club.
- Secure three non-Optimist judges for the District level judging.

November 2012 -January 2013

- Order a District winner plaque and any certificates needed from Optimist Supply or OptiPromo.
- Remind Club Presidents and Lieutenant Governors in writing that the deadline of February 28 is approaching. Give them any new developments and answers to frequently asked questions.

February 2013

- Conduct an at-large contest for entries from U.S. students on overseas military installations, if needed.
- Receive all Club entries no later than February 28.

March 2013

- Conduct judging of essays submitted.
- Announce the winner!
- Return all entries, except first, second and third place.
- Contact the District Governor and arrange for the awards presentation and reading of the essays at the next District meeting.
- Notify all Clubs of the District winner's name and sponsoring Club.

April 2013

- Contact the first-place winner to obtain information for the Winner's Information Form. Social Security number/SIN must be given for District winners (on Winner's Information form) in order to aid in tracking of scholarship funds to colleges and universities.
- Send the District Winner's Information Form, Zone/ District Essay Contest Entry Form, copy of the birth certificate or passport and first-place essay to the Optimist International Programs Department by April 15, 2013!

Instructions for Master Score Sheet for Club and District Chairs

As Essay Chair, you will have two important responsibilities BEFORE turning over your entries to the judges:

1. Review entries for obvious violations of the rules. If non-conformity to the rules is so extreme that you feel the entry is not worthy of judging, as Chair you may disqualify it from further competition.
2. Number each title page and place that same number on each page of the essay. Next, detach the title page and keep it for your records. This will free the judges from any suspicion of prejudice or subjectivity.

OPTION:

Many Essay Chairs have passed this helpful hint along to the Programs Department.

For each essay to be judged, confirm the total number of words in the essay.

Remember: the material in the text of the essay is counted, not the footnotes at the bottom of the page or end of the essay.

Example: 1 The Book of Dreams, page 6-10, Steven Smith. This would not be counted in the word total, however in the text: “Dreams are an important part of a person’s development.”¹ The quotation would be counted. Remember words like: a, and, the, ARE counted in the word total.

Remember: hyphenated words count as 1 word.

If the number of words is not correctly identified, note it on a list. This will cut down on some of the time it takes judges to complete their tasks.

Example:

Essay	Words Correctly Correct	Identified Count
1	yes
2	no	805
3	no	605

Two Additional Points to Keep in Mind:

1. In compiling scores, these should be kept in your confidence and should never be revealed, displayed or discussed.
2. In the event you have a large number of entries you may want to have a preliminary judging (separate judges) to reduce the number to a workable field. This is the decision of the Contest Chair; it is not mandatory.

Using the Master Score Sheet

Enter the points allotted to the various entries by each of the three judges on the master score sheet. After totaling the points allotted for each entry in the total column, rank the entries in the rank column. If no ties occur, you can easily determine your first, second and third-place winners.

In the case of a tie, the entry scoring the largest number of points in category 1 shall be declared the winner. If a tie still exists, each succeeding category shall be considered the tie-breaker.

Should a tie still exist through category 5, the tied essays shall be resubmitted to the judges for a second judging (no ties permitted, as before).

Remember scores are strictly confidential and should not be shared with anyone.
