MEM-8 The Magic of Mentoring New Members

Heron

Once an Optimist Club recruits new Members, it's important to keep them! New Optimists need support, guidance and nurturing, and mentoring is one of the most effective ways to promote involvement in your Club. This session is designed to assist Clubs in developing and utilizing a mentoring system that delivers results for both the individual Members and our organization. Join us for this workshop where developing excited, productive Optimists is the goal!

PROG-19 Childhood Cancer 101 with Johns Hopkins Kent B

The collaboration between Optimist International and Johns Hopkins Pediatric Oncology is a natural one. Optimist's motto is "Friend of Youth" and cancer is the antithesis of this. So, joining the Johns Hopkins Kimmel Cancer Center to take on the disease that claims more time, young lives, and futures brings a unique and profound meaning to this motto. Get the facts about this disease and learn how Optimists can continue to bring hope to childhood cancer patients and their families. Don't miss this unique opportunity!

Stephanie Davis

LD-17 PGI & Me Iron

This workshop will not only encourage us to learn more about our organization, Optimist International, through our participation and involvement. It will show how we can inspire growth in our own personal lives. How well do we know ourselves? We will share projects to encourage greater interest and participation. Remember that people will align themselves with success. Come and be a part of this wonderful experience.

This session will give you all you need to know to run a successful NOW program. Dee and Mark guarantee an annual NOW program will revitalize your Club and keep it strong in the future.

Dee Rushforth/Mark Weinsoff

MEM-7 Taking a Club from “Getting By” to “Getting Awards!” Iron

(Motivating your Members to do more than just get through the year)
Any Club can survive the year, but not all Clubs can do it with style and grace and still have fun. This workshop is designed to encourage you to look outside the norm and do things to make your Members WANT to do more. When a Club goes that extra step, suddenly everybody wants to be involved and the entire community takes notice. Bring your note pad, a pencil, and an open mind, and be prepared to contribute some ideas of your own.
